

YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD JUST GOT A LOT LARGER

“I love my community,
I know you love yours.
Join us as we work together to help our communities be prepared.”

— Jimmy Ross

Pandemic flu is a real threat, but there are specific, simple steps you can take to encourage your neighbors and your near-and-dear to prepare.

It starts with leadership, your leadership. You may not realize it, but you have an influential role in helping your community members be prepared now, to make it easier to withstand the impact of a possible flu pandemic later. See yourself in a larger role, step up and join the effort.

Go to takethelead.pandemicflu.gov for your online toolkit. Use it to help your community prepare now for pandemic flu.

Pictured: Jimmy Ross, Chairperson, Lions Clubs International Foundation; Jacquelyn Pierce, International President, General Federation of Women's Clubs; Brian A. Gallagher, President and CEO, United Way of America; Gloria Lawlah, Immediate Past Chair of the Board of Directors, Women in Government

takethelead.pandemicflu.gov

PA N D E M I C F L U
TAKE THE LEAD
WORKING TOGETHER TO PREPARE NOW

