- 📌 A growing group: The number of Vermonters aged 65 and older nearly doubled between 2010 and 2021, from 10.5% to 19.5% of the population.

“If I got to go to the medical store to get diabetic shoes, I have to walk a mile and a half from where the bus lets me on. Yeah, and this time of year, I’ll have to not have it.”

- 📌 Facing many financial challenges:
 - Only 22% are in the workforce.
 - An average annual income around $7,500 less than the state average.
 - 9.1% live below the poverty line.
 - More than half of renters spend greater than 30% of income on rent.

- 📌 Around 26% live alone, making support harder to reach when needed.

- 📌 Two-thirds report challenges accessing needed community health services.

“You go and you pay for the visit. To me, that’s okay. But then you’re afraid to bring up something else because then they’re going to send you to someplace else...and you just can’t afford it. So where you say, well put it off. I’m not going to go.”

- 📌 Only 78% of older Vermonters have a reliable internet connection.

- 📌 Inadequate, unreliable, and confusing insurance or Medicare coverage makes healthcare services difficult or impossible to access.

- 📌 Higher rates of chronic disease, disability, and cancer have profound impacts on the emotional health, need for healthcare, and budgets of older residents.

“I started using a food shelf and cut back on presents to my grandchildren.”

Health drivers

- ▮ An increasing number of older Vermonters have unstable housing or have become unhoused.
- ▮ Social and environmental stressors, like climate change and COVID-19, have a greater impact on already vulnerable groups.

“The cost is just totally ridiculous to afford. We're talking a hundred thousand dollars here that this hospital got out of me. It's not right. There's no reason to keep raising the cost of healthcare.”

- ▮ Of those providing care to family members or partners:
 - 41% said they are supporting someone with a form of dementia
 - Over half provide support more than 20 hours a week, many do so 24/7
 - Problems accessing and affording respite care is a common concern
 - Spouses as caregivers report more problems with their own health
- ▮ Access to care barriers include transportation, getting and keeping insurance, co-payments, and limited dental coverage.
